An Elaborate Dance.

About forty-five young men gave a return dance Monday night to the young ladies who recently so delightfully entertained them at a Leap Year dance. Turner Hall was again the scene of the merry-making and the hall, most beautifully decorated for the occasion, has never before held a happier crowd nor has it ever seen a more elaborate affair. The dancing started at nine o'clock to the strains of De Vinne's orchestra of Kansas City and with an intermission at eleven, lasted until three, when it was even then loathe to break up. During the intermission a swell five course banquet was served at Nickell's Home. Those who participated in this return dance will long remember it as one of the best and most pleasant times they have ever experienced.

PERUNA SAVED MY LIFE.

"I Recommend It Wherever I Am."

Mrs. John M. Stabler, Millerburg, Ind., writes: "I have been cured of a very bad case of catarrh of the stomach and constipation, and a complication of ailments that I have had for several years. I doctored with three doctors, who did me not much good, so I quit doctoring. 'I bought a bottle of Peruna and commenced taking it. I found I was getting some better, but thought I was not doing as well as I might. So I wrote The Peruna Medical Department, to see what they thought about me. They gave me special directions and medical advice. To our astonishment I improved and am to-day a well woman and weigh as much as I ever did in my life. 'I tell my friends that Peruna saved my life. I recommend it wherever I am, and when any of our folks are sick, I give them Peruna with success.'"

SHOULD BE ACCOMMODATING

What Are Neighbors for If They Cannot Help Each Other Out Occasionally?

Uncle Jabez and Aunt Becky Pilcher, an easy-going old couple, lived next door to Mrs. Perkins, a worthy soul, although a trifle lax in small matters. Borrowing from each other was a daily custom of the two women, all borrowed articles being carefully returned—if convenience permitted.

One evening Uncle Jabez asked for his daily paper, the Spicerville Herald, which, although a morning paper, it was his habit to postpone reading until the day's chores were done and he could settle down to his after-dinner leisure.

"Hem! Lemme see," pondered Aunt Becky, "what did become of that paper? Oh, yes, I recollect. I lent it to Susan Perkins this afternoon. I'll run and get it."

She returned soon, bearing a paper—not, however, the Herald—and a message from Mrs. Perkins. "Susan says, would you just as lives have yes-day evening's Times? Here 'tis. She says it's got nearly the same readin' in as the Herald, but it's narrower and don't fit her butry shelf half as good, and if you'd just as lives—"

Uncle Jabez looked a little doubtfully at the Times. "Couldn't I read the Herald first," he suggested mildly, "an' let her put it on her shelf afterwards, s'pose?"

Aunt Becky looked uncomfortable. "Well—I s'pose you could," she hesitated, "only Susan got it on the shelf now, with things settin' on it, and it'd be some trouble to take 'em off. Besides, she's scalloped it pretty deep, and the scallops cut into some of the readin' a good deal—"

"Oh, well," concluded Uncle Jabez, resignedly, "nev' mind, then; gimme the Times. I reckon neighbors ought to 'commodate one another when they kin."—Youth's Companion.

Al E. Ghenny—Yes, sir, we'll have some of the biggest sky scrapers in the country before long.

Parke Rowe—You need them. It'll give you a chance to see the sun when it shines!

ACID-PROOF VESSELS.

New acid-proof vessels are cast of pure iron oxides. The latter have a high melting temperature and are practically indestructible. Pure iron oxide may be obtained by "blowing" pure molten iron. Apparatus and containers made of this material may be manipulated like other metallic vessels. As compared with that of platinum or quartz vessels, the cost is low. They can also be used for drying and heating substances which would decompose metallic iron.

POINTED CRITICISM.

Theodore Dreiser, the novelist-editor, was talking in New York about criticism.

"I like pointed criticism," he said, "criticism such as I heard in the lobby of a theater the other night at the end of the play."

"The critic was an old gentleman. His criticism, which was for his wife's ear alone, consisted of these words:

"Well, you would come!"

QUALIFIED.

Saphedde—Society, is a terrible bore. Don't you think so, Miss Cutting?

Miss Cutting—Some people's.
